WHEREAS, older children, after a carefree summer at camp or on the home playground, must be reminded to resist the impulse to dash out into the street after a ball or to elude a pursuing playmate; and

WHEREAS, motorists should be alert to the need for special caution in school zones, near playgrounds and in any area wherever groups of children are active; and

WHEREAS, the motorist must assume the major responsibility for reducing the heartbreaking toll of street accidents;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ARCHIE GUBBRUD, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week of September 5-12, 1962, as in South Dakota, and I urge all our people, during this critical "back-to-school" week and the weeks to come, to practice extreme caution so that our children may live to enjoy the blessings and responsibilities of adult citizenship, and to cooperate in every way in making our streets and highways safe for everyone, from the eldest to the youngest, not only for this special week but for all time.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of South Dakota to be affixed this 9th day of August, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two.
